FOREWORD:

May the following pages, as they are slowly unfolded before you bring back pleasant memories of happy school days now gone by. As the years pass, may you find an added desire to review these pages — may each one of you increase the pleasurable memories found between these covers.

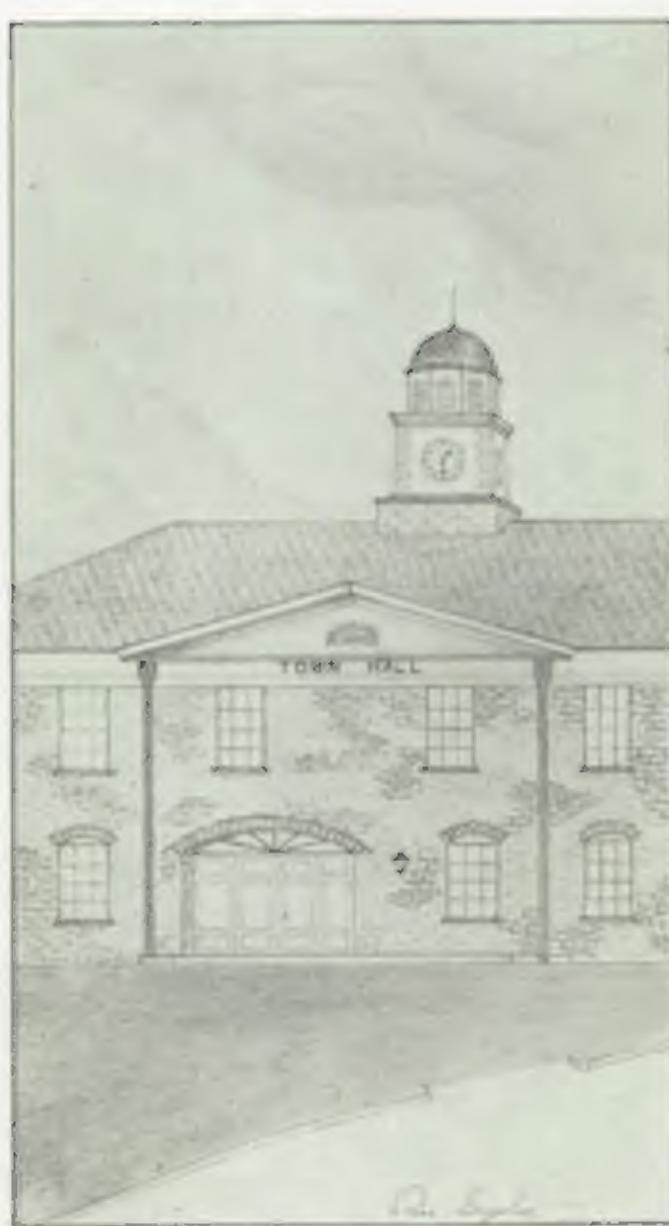

DEDICATION:

To the townspeople of Marshall, whose foresight and generosity made possible our beautiful house of learning, through many sacrifices on their part, we, the Senior class of Marshall High School, dedicate this, our memory book, with deepest reverence and respect, showing our appreciation to them for our fine surroundings.

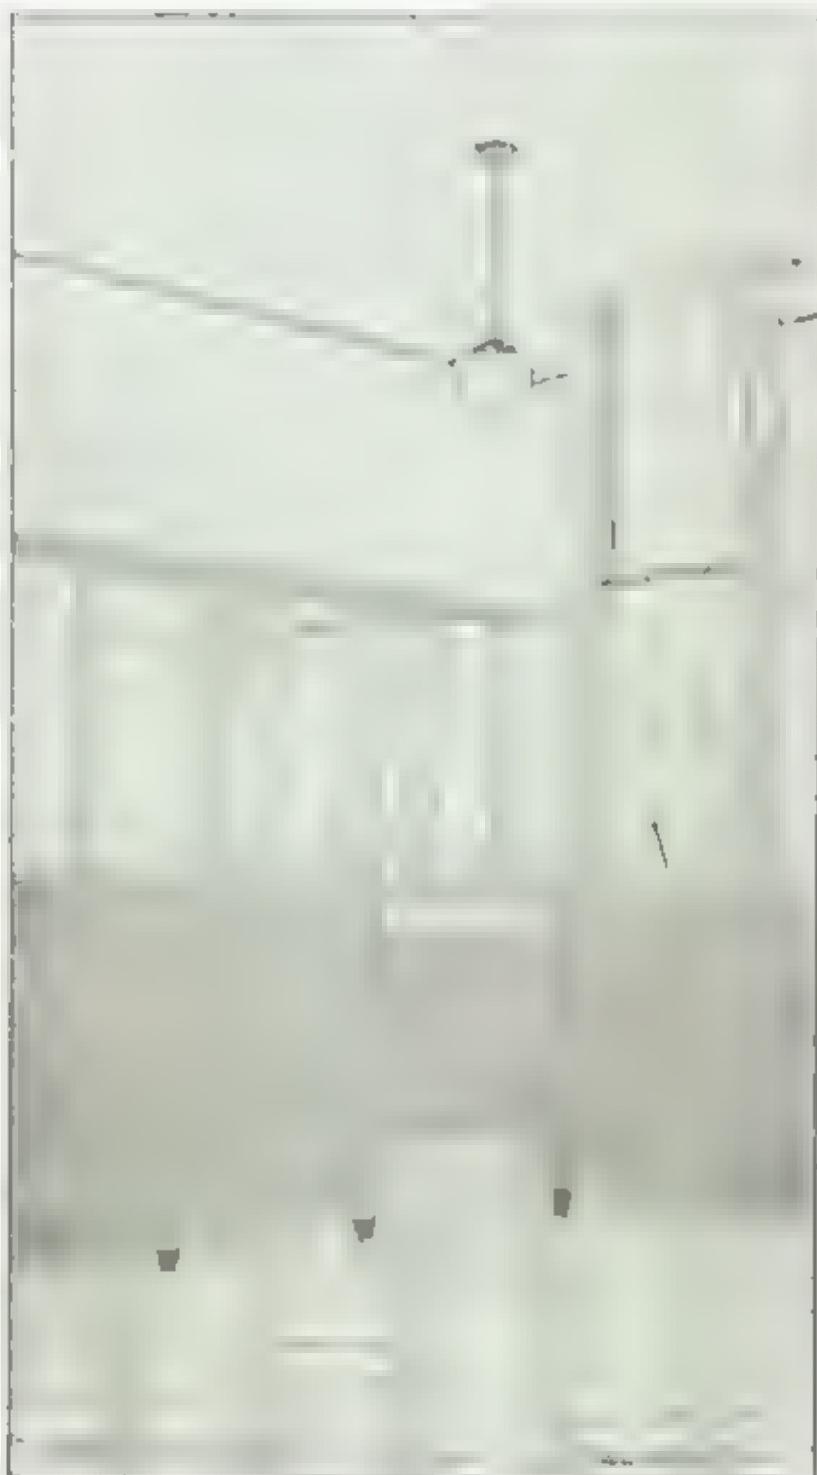

NOTE FROM THE STAFF:

Somewhat unusual is the art theme of the 1932 DIAL. Instead of using the type of drawing found in the DIALS of previous years, we have tried to carry out the idea found in the dedication. Student sketches of familiar scenes, combined with simple, dignified page designs, comprise the effective art theme of our annual. We hope you'll like it!

EXECUTIVE

Board of Education

The class of '32 wishes to take this opportune moment to thank the members of the Board of Education for their splendid services during the past year.

Mr. More, who has very capably filled his position as President of the Board for several years, was once more elected to succeed himself in this office.

The terms of two of the members expired this year. These people were Dr. Gesner and Mrs. Coombs.

It was through the combined and untiring efforts of this group of five, that it was made possible for ours to be the first Junior class to enter the bright and shining portals of the new school building in 1930. We will cherish the memory of it always.

It is our most sincere hope that the Board of Education will "carry on" just as successfully next year as they have during the past one.

Seniors Sponsor League of Nations Assembly

Following a precedent set up by numerous other high schools of the nation, a model League of Nations Assembly was presented in the Marshall High School auditorium, April 19.

The speeches given, by those taking part, were extracts from the ones given at the twelfth annual meeting of the League Assembly held at Geneva last September.

Harold Rose, acting president of the Council, opened the session. The balloting for the new president was the first business transacted. Herbert Lascelles, acting as the Roumanian delegate, was elected.

He then presented his opening address, bringing before the Assembly the suggestion made by several countries, that Mexico be invited to join the League. After several urgent speeches by the representatives of those countries, the resolution was adopted.

Carefully coached by Miss Lorah, the following students took part: Wayne Miller, representing Germany; Robert Hervig, France; Franklin Ryan, Italy; Dorothy Deuel, Spain; Maisner Allen, China; Frederick Clements, Belgium; Herbert Lascelles, Roumania; Valda Henasy, Japan; Dale Bemis, Great Britain; Charles Flynn, Colombia; with Wilma Muck acting as chief interpreter. More than fifty other students who were non-speaking representatives also took part.

Mrs. Craig Miller, who visited the League of Nations Assembly in Geneva two years ago, highly commended the participants for their fine work in depicting an actual session. She also explained that the two official languages of the League are English and French, although German is now coming into use. Most of the speeches are translated into both English and French because they are the most widely spoken languages in the world. Actual sessions of the Assembly last several days and in some cases several months. In case there is need of immediate action in settling an international dispute, a special meeting of the various branches of the League may be called to settle it by arbitration.

Senior Class History

Well here we are, wild-eyed, bashful, and uneducated; but willing to brave the swarming mobs of upperclassmen and begin a four year grind with our noses in a book. After getting the low-down on the rules and regulations of the school, all eyes were turned to the class election returns, candidates being chosen from the three English Classes. Nancy Lee Watson, Dorothy Deuel, and Max Hartman were elected as presidents and through their hearty efforts a complete program was enjoyed.

The Seniors, realizing that we were still leery, gave a get-together following the elections so we "freshies" might learn the art of dancing and get to "know the ropes," but "freshies" will be "trembles" and only a few of the very bravest appeared in their stiff, new clothes. Many were the disgusted remarks cast in our direction following this affair.

Surely we were extremely disgusted with ourselves and so determinedly, we engaged in the difficult task of "extracting" the sum of twenty dollars from our faithful comrades to pay for our picture in THE DIAL. This was finally completed after many candy and bun sales and with hearts filled to overflowing with elation we passed our dreaded exams and prepared to enter the new High School as sophomores.

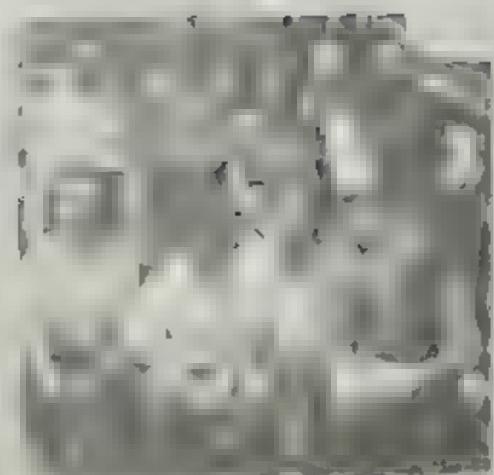

No need to mention that our summer vacation passed all together too swiftly and though we are fortunate enough to return to such a wonderful new building, we still could have enjoyed a few more months "lay-off". We certainly are proud of our "knowledge-factory" and we will make every effort to keep it looking fresh and new and set a good example for the "freshies".

With the old routine staring us in the face we drudged through our sophomore year, hardly realizing that it meant another year toward our graduation. A dance netted us enough money for our DIAL picture and the only remaining events which we had looked forward to, was serving at the Junior-Senior Banquet and our annual picnic which was held at Pine Lake. "Plenty to eat" was the word at both affairs although several dishes of jello were missing before "lunching time" rolled around at the picnic.

As Juniors, we took on the air of being "up in the world" and even the Seniors were doubtful as to just whom would run the school. Our class play, "The New Poor", was a decided success and with the money from this, combined with the earnings from class dances, we were able to stage the largest and most successful Junior-Senior Reception yet offered. The picnic at Duck Lake also proved successful and following this we "stowed away" our books for the last time before entering into our last year as mighty Seniors and dominate over our under classmen.

September seventh — Again the buzz of activity sounds throughout the corridors as we begin our fatal year as Seniors. Due to the present financial conditions we had three Senior parties each proving to be very enjoyable, the last of these was held at the Country Club. A wonderful three-course supper was served and a fine dancing program followed. This was our last get-together until the Junior-Senior Reception which we looked forward to with utmost interest. Although the Juniors had a shortage of class finances, they did all that was in their power to show us a good time and the affair was heartily enjoyed by all.

JUNIOR

Junior Class History

In the uneventful fall of 1929, eighty-five frightened lads and lassies timidly stepped into the school, entering the now-familiar halls of Marshall High. They knew each other. As was the custom of Freshmen we wore "Jew's" ("we") radiated the same emerald shade as did our predecessors. At all hours of the day, during the first few weeks, we could be found peering anxiously at various teachers, (we were wondering if they were really as formidable as had been rumored) tiptoeing carefully down the creaking stairs, or gazing with much reverence and awe at the dignified upper-classmen. Of course we were treated with much condescension for a time, but after a few weeks had passed, we let it be known that we were out for our share of the honors.

The first evidence of our rising spirits was the big party, after which even the most sedate of the Seniors agreed that we knew how to do things. Two of our more ambitious classmates were on the debating team (which didn't amount to much, really) and we were represented in athletics. By this time we had fully gained the respect of our "superiors" — and in some cases their admiration. A picnic at Pine Lake put the final touch to our first year in Marshall High.

At the beginning of our Sophomore days, we were a shining example to the Freshies as we calmly strolled with an air of great wisdom, through the now familiar halls of learning. We started our record-breaking career with a Fall Party — fortunately it was a success — and continued winning honors in public speaking and athletics as an added inspiration for the "Frosh".

To further prove our ability in "running" things around school and also to provide much needed funds to pay the sum necessary to guarantee the appearance of our youthful countenances in the DIAL, we staged another big dance. The next great event was the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. Upon that occasion the "Eighty" Juniors graciously permitted some of us to carry the vitamins and calories to them and to their distinguished guests, the Seniors. To close the year, we enjoyed the annual picnic, this time at Duck Lake.

Our most eventful year was started in a patriotic fashion by an Armistice Dance. ~~Our display was in celebration of the end of World War I. When~~ (and weren't we proud of our share in that victory?) and how we can celebrate!

The girls showed their domestic ability (and incidentally increased the balance in the quite empty treasury) by selling home-made candy. Almost any Saturday you could see the sticky, smiling faces of the girls in Sanders' window, beaming at you as you haltingly walked by the display of tempting delicacies, for it was a baked goods sale, of course. Judging from the samples consumed by those in charge, we imagine everything was tempting at least — or so it seemed.

After the thermometer had dropped to its lowest degree, we all enjoyed a sleigh ride. Where? Oh, nowhere in particular but "a good time was had by all." Soon after, we presented a rollicking comedy, "Second Childhood". Much dramatic talent was disclosed by this production and judging from the hearty laughter (and the money we made) it was an immense success. We never will forget Bud and Andy pacing the floor with the babies, nor Maxine as the heroine.

Next on the program was the big J-Hop. The originality and adaptability of the Juniors was shown by relinquishing the traditional banquet for a bigger and better dance. (the change was really due to the lack of funds — depression, you know.) but leave it to the Juniors for something bigger and better. The decorative scheme was fortunately kept secret and the affair successfully ended our careers as Juniors.

Juniors As Seen Through Seniors' Eyes

All aboard! The Senior observation balloon, destined to give the coming Seniors the "once over" to determine their capability of "running the school," ascended to a comfortable altitude and peered from the observer's basket through freshly polished glasses.

Deciding that the corridor leading to Mr. Rose's office would be the correct passage in which to give them the "once over"—the long tedious task has started.

Unconsciously, the first victim of inspection is passing through—an error—two persons are being scrutinized. Ah! we have them—Harlan Annis and "Red" Badger are seen scurrying timidly from the fearful abode known as Mr. Rose's office. Bud can be detected by his soiled and monogrammed jacket, while "Red" is immediately betrayed by her fiery tresses. So these midgets are to follow in the footsteps of our mighty beings! Mercy! How could one expect these tiny humans to carry on the tedious routine.

Following this pair are seen two "burly brutes." Junior Twist is given away by his white hair while Roger Johnson is identified by his "Frankenstein" walk. "Rod", by the way, was elected president of the Junior class, and will be counted on to help carry out a successful football and basketball season.

What's this? A tot comes toddling within focusing range with—well, what are they? Perhaps wading breeches, at any rate Bill Clavborne is the lad. Bill, as you remember, was elected Captain of the '33 football team, and was also given a berth on the All-Conference team as half-back. He has to his credit three letters which he won in football, and will be out there smashing the line again for his fourth. Well, here's luck to you and your team.

Next comes we find Leon Harwood and Helen Giesing. These two girls assisted by "Bud" Murray and "Andy" Freede are burdened with the debating tasks. It was through their hardy efforts that the Twin Valley Championship cup is now resting safely in our trophy case and Miss Harwood is to be congratulated on her fine showing made in the state oratorical contest.

Soon followed two mischievous youngsters, and the fact is easily seen that these lads have been disobeying in some way or other. Hurried, backward glances are cast intermittently, and a slight quickening in their paces denote very uneasy feelings. The lumbering gait, stepped up considerably, reveals "Moss" plowing along, all the while being incessantly poked in the ribs by "Tom", as they round the bend and make their dash for freedom.

Oh! Oh! looks as if the entire school were marching out and how they are enjoying it! It is hardly possible to make an intent study of these fighting Juniors as they streak by—Goodrich, Wheelers, Knapps, Hoenes, Keiper, Farmer—Stop! the joke is on us—this isn't the hunger strikers filing through, but instead merely the Future Farmers off to enjoy a ploughing contest.

At last, the charging brigade has passed (with all sound effects) and the hall is left barren, scarcely a noise sounds through the corridor. Just in time! As the Seniors were making ready to descend and form their decision, three girls are sighted as slowly making their way to the office. Immediately the glasses are whipped into place and eyes steeled in an effort to make identifications. After several drawn-out minutes elapsed, the girls are again sighted as they leisurely progress to their respective class rooms. The great focusing range of the glasses enables us to read the writing scratched on three orange slips and we know that Whalen, Mackey, and Eve Zull will enjoy a complete forty-five minute rest after school.

Already we voice our opinion. No further observations are needed, and in descending the Seniors unanimously agree that the coming Seniors are regular—that the class will be composed of the right material and that our vacancies will be ably filled.

Juniors, here's luck.

Dial Staff

The Dial Staff, this year, has had charge of the publishing of both the school newspaper, which appeared every two weeks until the latter part of March, and the annual. Instead of having two separate staffs, all work was done by the Journalism class under the supervision of Mr. Horton.

Positions on the newspaper staff were changed from time to time to give everyone an opportunity to try several phases of journalistic work. Thus, each person served in several capacities during the year.

Our Dials appeared in new dress this year for all printing was done by local concerns — instead of by out of town firms as had been the custom in previous years. Thus, the staff was able to learn what happens to a newspaper, or an annual, from the time the first copy is written until it rolls off the printing press.

Editor-in-Chief	Dorothy Denel
Associate Editors	Marjorie Kempf, Virginia Lautenslager
Business Manager	Harold Rose

Debate

Coached by Miss Nell Lorah and debating the question—"Resolved that the State of Michigan should enact legislation providing for a system of compulsory unemployment insurance," the debate squad, both affirmative and negative teams, completed a comparatively successful season.

Both teams engaged in several practice and non-decision debates with surrounding schools. Following is a brief contest summary:

STATE LEAGUE

Marshall vs. Albion	November 13	Split Decision
Marshall vs. Reading	November 18	Split Decision
Marshall vs. Hastings	January 8	Split Decision
Marshall vs. Vicksburg	January 12	Forfeited

TWIN VALLEY

Marshall vs. Lakeview	December 1	Non-decision
Marshall vs. Hillsdale	January 18	Non-decision
Marshall vs. Coldwater	January 29	Non-decision
Marshall vs. Albion	February 5	Marshall Won
Marshall vs. Lakeview	February 26	Marshall Won

On February 26, the negative team provided a grand climax, winning the Twin Valley Cup by virtue of their victory over Lakeview.

The veterans of last year's team are D. Deuel, H. Rose, Seniors; E. Gesner, E. Harwood, Juniors. The newcomers to the department are M. Murray, A. Frede, Juniors, and M. Murray, Freshman. All are available next year.

Marshall debaters have established an enviable forensic record in the last few years which they leave to future teams to maintain.

Library Club

The Library Club under the excellent supervision of Mrs. Parry has accomplished much in its second year in the new school building and has completed its fourth successful year since its organization in nineteen twenty-eight, when students took charge of the Library. Since that time the custom has continued.

There has been some trouble about losing books this year but the new weekly checking system organized and introduced last year keeps all the books in their proper places. The idea is to have the two librarians each hour, keep a weekly check on some certain section of books. There are two attendants for each hour of the day besides the two advisors who take charge of the study hall.

This year there has been more than one hundred new books added to the already large number on the shelves. Mr. Rose has donated some fine books and among them are: Education of a Princess, Dwarf Blood, Marie of the Ursulines, Coronado's Children, John Henry, From Day to Day, and Buried Treasure, also he gives his Senior Literary Guild books to the library for Boys and Girls. Each month we receive a booklet from the Junior Literary Guild of much interest.

Among some of the new books which the school has added is a set of sixteen volumes of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedias, sixteen volumes of The Book of Popular Science, and several novels of special interest.

Boys' Glee Club

Under the efficient management of Mr. Jenvey, our new musical instructor, the Boys' Glee Club has become a real organization.

Having opened the year with twelve members and finished with nineteen is but small proof of its success. Much credit is due Mr. Jenvey for his fine work in building such a glee club during the short time he has been in Marshall.

During the year the boys have sung before many audiences, including the Rotary Club, High School Exhibition, Coldwater and Albion high schools, County Farm, Eckford Grange, and a number of high school assemblies. Most of the members also took part in the operetta.

Following a suggestion by Mr. Jenvey, those juniors or seniors worthy of letters, received them, following his recommendation.

As the boys joining after the first semester were too late to appear in the picture, their names are mentioned below. They were Andrew Freed, Carroll Cowles, Max Hartman, Roger Johnson, and Philip Curry.

A glee club quartet was also organized this year as there is often an opening for a small group when a whole glee club is too large to work out successfully. The present quartet is composed of the following members: First Tenor, Max Hartman; Second Tenor, Stanley Hartwell; Baritone, Maxton Murray; Bass, Ross Snyder.

It is expected that a "bigger and better" glee club and a new quartet will be organized next year.

Girls' Glee Club

At the first meeting of the Girls' Glee Club, lo and behold! a man was there to greet them. Several of last year's members returned but the greatest majority of turn-outs were "greenies."

The club elected its officers as follows: President, Wilma Muck; Secretary and Treasurer, Edith Hartwood; Business Manager, Dorothy Deuel.

In cooperation with the rest of the High School Music Department several programs were given.

In the early part of the spring, a girl's trio was organized. This consisted of Elinor Page, soprano; Lauta Gallup, second soprano; Wilma Muck, alto. The trio sang out in public several times.

A few days before Spring vacation, the cast for the operetta, "The Lucky Jade," was chosen.

On April twenty-fifth, both the Boys' and the Girls' Glee Clubs journeyed to Coldwater, and put on an assembly program for the high school students. The next day, the Coldwater Girls' Glee Club returned the compliment.

The operetta was presented May seventeenth, and was a verified success.

Although the girls did not have the chance to show their ability to the "fans" of the WELL radio audience, as did their rivals, the boys, they pride themselves that they are just as good as the other sex.

We wish to take this opportunity to congratulate Mr. Jenvey on his splendid direction of our Glee Club. Here's to a bigger and better organization next year.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association has come to the end of its second successful year. It was organized in the autumn of 1930 under the auspices of Miss Schertl.

The aims of the organization are to promote the spirit of sportsmanship among the girls and a keener interest in girl's athletics. The officers for this year were: President, W. Muck; Vice-president, B. Long; Secretary, E. Giesner; Treasurer, E. Harwood; Hike Master, M. Coombs; Business Manager, D. Weakley; Assistant Business Manager, M. Bicknell.

Several members, besides a few non-members, continued the natural dancing club this year, directed by Miss Schertl. Miss Bernadine Sanders played for the group.

The first event of the year for the G. A. A. was the initiation breakfast hike September 10. Several other hikes were taken during the fall. Then the association was divided into three groups, and during the year, each group entertained the others at suppers.

Inter-class soccer, basketball, track, and baseball games were played. On April 16, several more new members were taken in. And on April 22, the Annual Spring Formal was held for members and their escorts, as well as the faculty.

Soon after the Spring Formal had been pronounced a success, the girls elected officers for next year. This done, it was "heard tell" of a farewell breakfast which took place at the Marshall Tavern in May.

County Normal

Class Colors — Old Rose and Silver

Flower — Pink Rose Buds

With less members than last year, the Calhoun County Normal has closed one of its most successful years of work. The membership of this class is twenty-seven members, each a graduate from a high school in this county at some previous time.

On Halloween the class enjoyed a masquerade party. The members of the class with Miss Stenson attended a theatre party in early spring, and the Teacher's Institute at Kalamazoo on March 3.

This year a new method has been improvised. Instead of the recitation plan as used by previous classes the committee and project plan was used.

F. F. A.

After three years of activity, the Marshall Chapter of the Future Farmers of America has greatly advanced the scientific knowledge of its members.

Some of the activities engaged in during the year were stock judging, pheasant raising, and submission of essays to the Switt and Company contest. Several picnics and project tours were also held during the summer. Besides taking third prize on an exhibit at the fair, the projects alone netted more than thirty-five hundred dollars.

Through the efforts of Mr. Wilcox a horseshoe-pitching tournament between the F. F. A. organizations of Marshall and surrounding schools will be held at the County Fair next fall. Several contests with other schools have already been held and all the invitations to play basketball with them have been accepted.

Another feature of the activity program was the Luncheon Club held once a week at noon. On these days the boys brought their lunches and ate in the Agricultural room. Mr. Wilcox secured a radio and a schedule of farm programs to provide the entertainment. If there did not happen to be any such programs, a little home talent was used and some of the members played selections on the harmonica, guitar, and jew's harp.

One of the main aims of the organization was to have dues low enough so that all those eligible could belong. The result was an increase of ten members over last year's number.

Usher Club

Rise, please! Third seat on the right!

And with Marge Kempf as head usher and Isabel Minne as assistant head, the ushers made their initial appearance at the Dial Play, "Rip Van Winkle," and a great deal of attention they received, too, in their attractive black dresses with the bright red ties — for the Usher Club Girls, to celebrate their seventh anniversary were decked in new uniforms.

As only ten veterans remained, it was necessary to choose ten new members, two of which were elected from the Senior class, six from the Juniors, and two from the Sophomores.

Their next assemblage was made at the Senior play "Agatha's Aunt" and although their head usher was Agatha herself, the girls managed very well under Miss Wagner and their assistant-head usher.

Their third appearance was made at the Junior play, where in spite of the large crowd, everyone was quickly and easily accommodated, and still a fourth service was rendered at "The Womanless Wedding", a home talent play.

The last ushering for the year was done at "The Lucky Jade", the all his-school operetta put on by Mr. Jenvey, but even though it was last, the Usher girls did not make it their least.

Although the year was not as active as usual the work done was very competent and the club also feels that they have obtained a most unusual record this past year — for not a fine was collected for gum chewing, tardiness, or incomplete uniforms.

Science Club

The Science Club, with Mr. Hammond as sponsor, slotted into high on Tuesday September 29, 1931, and with seven old members to carry on the routine, proceeded through its eighth consecutive year with accelerator to the floor. Seventeen Seniors will be graduated from the club this year leaving only four old members for next year.

All members enjoyed their first get-together at the annual banquet and the initiations proved severe and hysterical — for reference, we offer Robert Pratley. Marge Kempt donned her cooking garments and hopped the necessary vitamins. The after-dinner speeches, led by "Jinnie" Lautenslager, were dry but tolerable and when this ordeal was finished the group adjourned to the chemistry laboratory to endure more punishment.

When December 16 rolled around, the club was found standing at the west entrance of the building prepared for a visit to Kellogg's and the Sanitarium. At Kellogg's free cereal and its were distributed to each member, and at the Sanitarium, "Fat" Groesbeck had his first experience in passing through a kitchen without getting something to eat.

The next journey was to The Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment Company on February 3 and this was followed by a trip to the Jackson State Prison, winding up the year's activities. Much credit is due Mr. Hammond and President Hartley Blakeslee for the fine program which was carried out this year.

Band

Marshall High School's band is one of the most popular as well as worth-while musical groups of the school. It has shown a marked growth and improvement under the efficient direction of Mr. Walter Jenvey.

The band takes an active part in school life, and it is a conspicuous factor in the success of many school activities. It has appeared at all home athletic contests, and has accompanied the team on some of its trips.

During the year the band has given several concerts at the Rotary Club, the County Infirmary, and high school assemblies. It has also had the distinction of broadcasting over station WELL, Battle Creek, on May 6, 1932. The band will make its last appearance before the public this year by presenting an open air concert before school closes.

A brass quartet, composed of four Seniors, was organized under the supervision of Mr. Jenvey. This group consists of two trumpets, Dorothy Deuel and Luella Whittaker, and two trombones, Hartley Blakeslee and Harold Upston. The quartet has broadcast with the band, and has also appeared at several band concerts and assemblies.

The band deserves much praise for the fine quality of work done during the year. Much of the credit is due Mr. Jenvey, the director, through whose efforts the personnel has gained the interest, enthusiasm, and encouragement of the townspeople for the commendable work done.

Orchestra

The orchestra is one of Marshall High School's most outstanding and successful musical organizations. Under the direction of Mr. Jenvey, the orchestra has made very creditable progress and has proven itself worthy of the recognition of the student body and also the townspeople of Marshall.

As has been customary in previous years, the orchestra has made its appearance at the Senior and Junior proms, Valentine's Day, the "School Festival" and the "Dinner for the Red Cross". It has also given a concert at the "Festival Hall" and has performed at various other functions and in various social clubs of the city.

Under the supervision of Mr. Jenvey, a special class for persons interested in receiving instruction on the violin, has been organized. This class, and the Junior Band, will act as a "feeder" for the orchestra in the future.

Letters in both band and orchestra are awarded to students (with the exception of seventh and eighth grade pupils) who have completed two year's service in these organizations. Chevrons are distributed during the Senior year, one chevron being given for each year's work in either the band or the orchestra.

The success of the high school musical department is mainly due to the efforts of Mr. Jenvey. We sincerely hope that his orchestra of next year will be as successful as the one of 1932.

"Agatha's Aunt"

Capping the climax of dramatic art for the illustrious and mighty Seniors, "Agatha's Aunt," in true elderly fashion won the heart of a blind boarder — all on the stage of Marshall Hall. There in the company of Lord — is Howard Mays as Pleasure, in — as the love interest of the Deacon — Dr. Dolittle, and Miss Fanny a spinster — patriotic respectability — Miss Davidson, Howard Mays, and Dorothy Deuel — "Agatha's Aunt" was presented to the delight of the fun-loving audience. Undaunted by the appearance of Julia, Mrs. Knox, and Warren — played by Valda Henasy, Wilma Muck, and Herbert Lascelles, friends of Mr. Forbes, the blind man — Aggie, who is but a girl, deftly covers her impersonation of an elderly woman by pretending to be Hepzibah Diggs, the hired girl, until the very end, when all is discovered and Forbes recovers the use of his eyes. The characters were forced to stop conversation in spots to furnish time for the outbursts of laughter from all who saw these truly homelike country folk.

The cast, as far as possible, was picked from those who were not in the Junior Play in order to include more students in dramatic activities, and the play was presented at the insistence of Mr. Horton. Extra parts were taken by Wayne Mays and Marjorie Karp. Romeo Preston and Robert Peter did a large part of the stage, furnished in country style, and Harold Rose showed his ability as make-up man.

"Second Childhood"

Under the capable supervision of Mr. Horton, the Junior Class presented "Second Childhood" on April 14, in the High School Auditorium.

The leading parts were taken by Maxine and Maxton Murray as Sylvia Relyea and Philip Stanton. Sylvia's father, Professor Frederick Relyea, was very ably portrayed by none other than Andrew Freede; and her aunt, Mrs. Wellsmiller, by Eleanor Ciesper.

The professor dreams in a fit of youth and tries an experiment on General Harry Burbeck who is Roger Johnson in real life; General Burbeck falls in love with Sylvia much to Philip's chagrin. Soon the General's daughter-in-law, a Spanish girl enacted by Laura Gallup, appears with her baby. She causes a great deal of trouble and worry.

Mrs. Vivert and Mrs. Henderson, the gossipy neighbors, were played by Isabel Minne and Ella Lutz. H. M. Moss played Judge Sanderson who helps to cause a great disturbance in the minds of Philip and the Professor. Sheriff Johnson and Deputy Sheriff Stoker were presented by Martin Flynn and Dale Bemis respectively.

In all, it was one of the best plays ever presented in Marshall High School and the Juniors have a reason to be proud of their dramatic ability. Much credit is due to the Stage Managers, Charles Jaques and Robert Clough, to the General Manager, Edith Harwood and to the Property Manager, Evelyn Zull for their help in making the play a success.

"The Lucky Jade"

Bringing this year's dramatic season to a successful close, "The Lucky Jade", High School Operetta, was presented before a large audience in the High School Auditorium the evening of May 17.

Directed by Mr. Jenvey aided by Miss Schertl and staged by Mr. Horton, with Mr. Eickmeyer as pianist, the production was a great success. All members of the cast played their roles in fine fashion. In order to give them a chance to appear in public before the final presentation and as a benefit to grade students, a matinee was given at three o'clock to which all graders were admitted for ten cents.

The cast was as follows:

A prologue was also presented, in which the cast included: Temple Priests, Maisner Allen and Robert Pratley; Lael, Peggy Robinson; Guion, Nyle Barningham. Besides casts in the prologue and play there was a large chorus and a number of house guests.

Camp Fire

Starting off their most successful year, one hundred and twenty Camp Fire girls under the leadership of Mrs. Roberts assisted by the Misses King, Fletcher, Humphrey, McAllster, Glau, Clute and Simons, held their first group party in the gym in honor of Hallowe'en.

At Christmas time baby clothes were made and given to the United Charities, and twelve dollars worth of toys, donated by Miss Simon's Senior group.

In March a trip to Battle Creek was taken to attend the annual Grand Council Fire; also Marshall store windows were decorated and a program for the week was carried out.

Later, the groups started a money-making campaign for camp funds. Half of their camp expenses were to be paid by the group if each girl could earn the remainder for herself. Doughnuts, candy, and baked goods sales all entered into the "ways and means" schedule.

Marietta Mueller, four years in Camp Fire, is the first Marshall girl to attain the rank of Torch Bearer, the highest rank that can be earned.

It may be safely said that Camp Fire has had the most successful year of any during its period of organization in Marshall.

Commercial Club

This year marks the beginning of a club in the Commercial department. This organization, under the supervision of Mrs. Wright, goes by the name of "Ye Merry Stenos," and is limited to only those taking Shorthand.

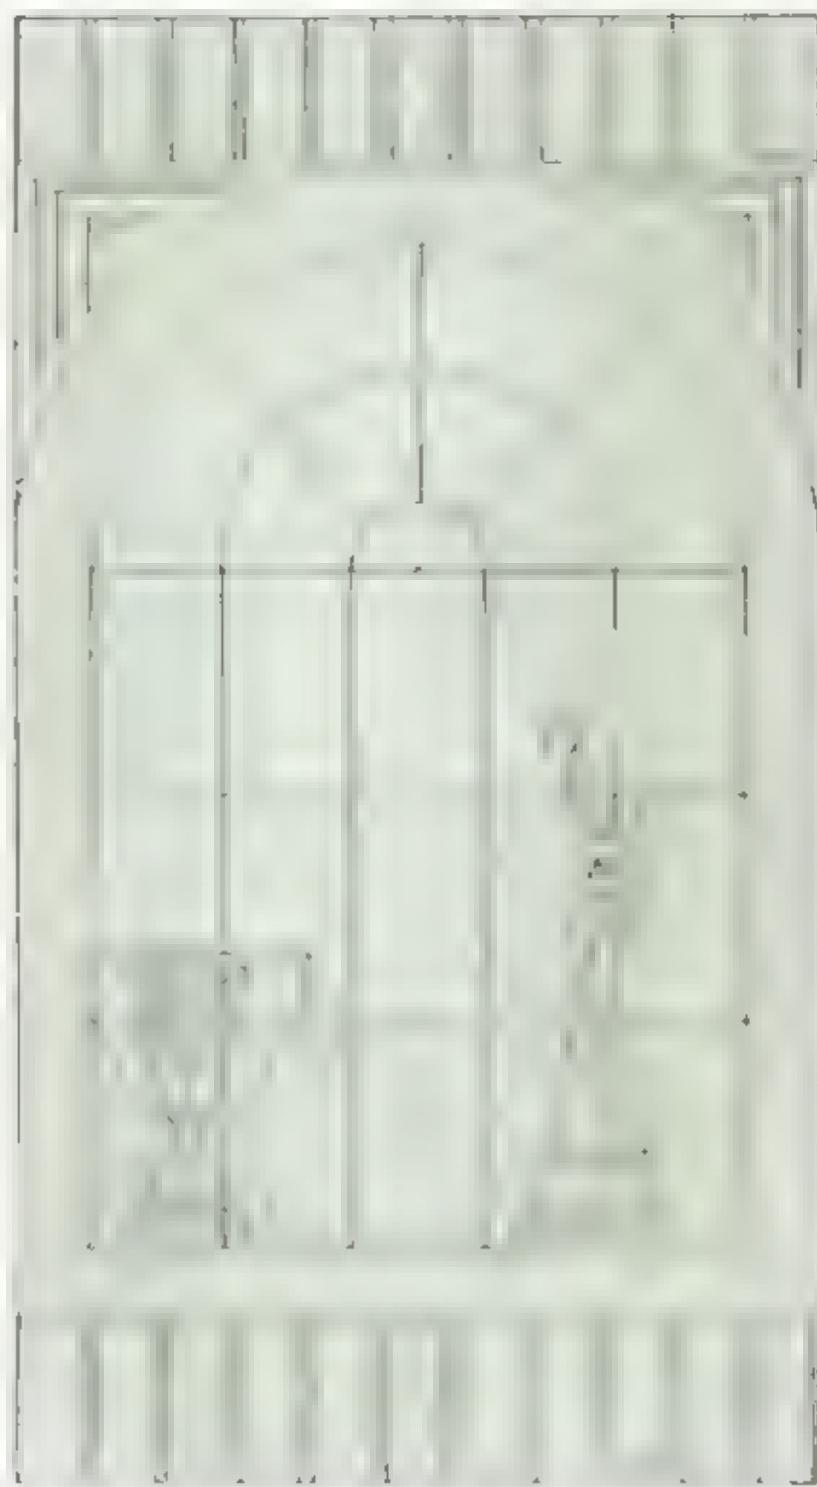

This group holds its meeting, combined business and social affairs, once a month at which many helpful things are brought up and discussed. At one gathering everyone presented three new words, gave their meaning, and used them in sentences. This is very beneficial, as you can see, for it helps us to enlarge our vocabulary. At another meeting an old fashioned spelling bee was held, and to wind up the party we danced the Virginia Reel.

At our Christmas party we were very fortunate in having "Old Santa," himself, visit us and after rummaging around in his pack he finally procured all day suckers for each of us. We later were enlightened to the fact the "Good Kris Kringle" was none other than Dale Bemis, our only boy member in the club.

Alice Flynn was president of the newly organized club with Louise Bicknell vice-president, and Dale Bemis secretary-treasurer.

At the meeting held at Mrs. Wright's, Wednesday, April 27, 'mid the gulping of apple pie à la mode, the officers for next year were chosen. They were: Louise Bicknell, president; Elinor Page, vice-president; and Evelyn Zull, secretary-treasurer.

ELYTRUS CARR

WEXFORD CLARK

Junior-Senior High Coaches

Hats off! to the coaches of Marshall High. They, by long hours of arduous teaching made the school year of 1931-32 athletically the most successful ever realized.

Mr. Carr has been the much beloved coach of Marshall High for the past six years. He has had some good teams in the past but the season of 1931-32 saw him produce the greatest of all his great teams. He developed a championship Football and Basketball squad besides directing an Intra-mural sports program and Track.

Mr. Clark took a big load off "Charlie's" hands when he coached the Reserve Football, Basketball and Junior High Basketball squads. These tasks did not end his work however, for as spring drew around he took it upon his shoulders to coach the Gulf team.

They are truly two great coaches and we wish them luck with their future teams.

Championship Football Team '51

That, "All things come to him who waits," was proved to Mr. Clitus Carr last fall when after six years as coach of Marshall High, he developed a team that stands out as the first Twin Valley Football Champions. He is proud of that team, the school is proud of them and the whole town is proud of them.

Their record is as follows:

On September 26, Coach Carr took his protegees to Lakeview where led by Captain Carlton Gruessbeck they launched an attack that completely frustrated their opponents. The Redskins won by a score of 53—0, the highest score ever attained by a Carr-coached eleven.

The next battle occurred at Kalamazoo on October 1, when our fighting squad met the strong State High team, holding them to a 6-6 tie. It was the first tie game that a Marshall team had played since 1923 when Albion and Marshall tied 7-7.

The Redskins chalked up their second Twin Valley victory on October 17, when Sturgis paid us a visit and were defeated 46-6. This game was played minus the services of Gerald Kimmell who received a broken collar bone during scrimmage two days before. Waidelich ably filled his shoes at the end position.

The following Friday the team journeyed to Hillsdale where the "Daisies" fell prey to a 26-0 score. The losers were never in a position to score.

 Second Row: Coach Carr, Paul Van Voorhees, Charles Flynn, Andrew Frede, Gerald Kimmell, Assistant Coach Clark
 Lower Row: Allen Welch, Harold Rose, Captain Carlton Greenback, Captain-elect William Clayborn, Murvel Summerfield

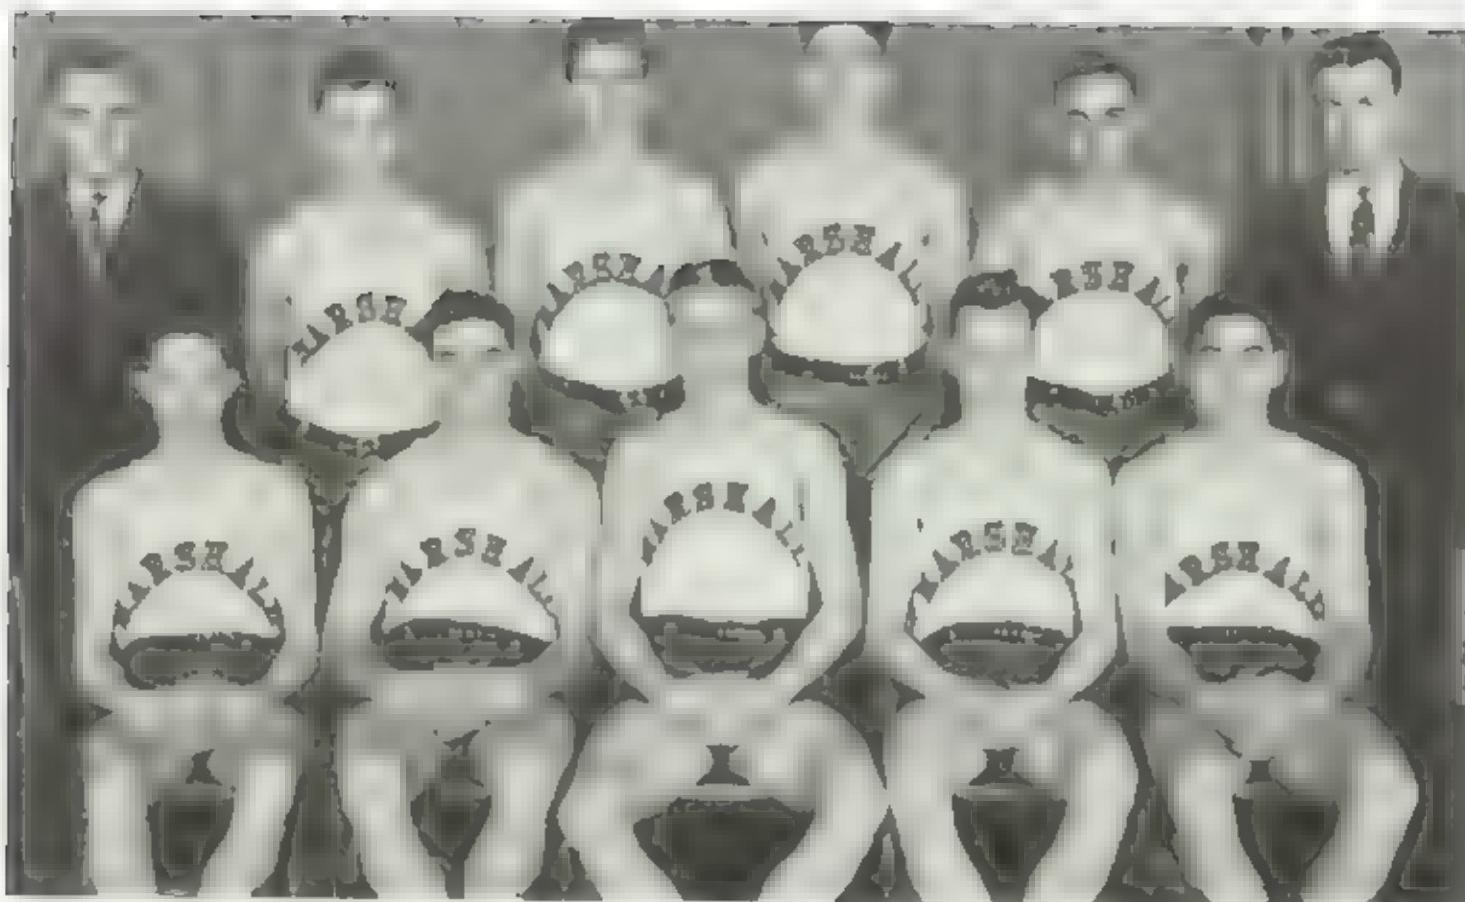

Up to this stage of the title quest, Marshall and Coldwater were both undefeated. October 30 was the day for the battle to decide who would lead in league standings. Marshall with an appeal to win went into it. Wendell Miller blocked a punt at the goal and then picked up ten yards for a touchdown. West got out the extra point through Carl Campbell with a winner of shoulder and star the blockers out. Rose with a pointed elbow did some of the best punting since the days of Herman Crampton. It was a great battle with every member of the squad doing his part well.

Coach Carr's boys won undisputed claim to the conference title November 11 when they defeated their arch rivals Albion on the local gridiron by a score of 8-0.

On November 20, the Champions met the Battle Creek Bearcats in the food city for the purpose of raising charity funds. Although the Bearcats won by a score of 13-6 they knew they had been through a battle. Thus ended the most successful football season ever realized by Marshall High. The Redskins scored a total of 153 points to the opponents 25.

The players and their positions are as follows: Roger Johnson, Frederick Waide, Fred Gruenke, Harold Andrew Frede, Wayne Miller and Wendell Miller tackles; Captain Greenback, Ross Snyder, Carlton Greenback, Paul Van Voorhees and Garth Tracy, centers; Elmer Klock, nose guard; Wilson Crampton and Allen Welch, halfbacks; Harold Rose, quarterback; and Murvel Summerfield, fullback.

Hats off! to the reserves. Fielding H. Yost says that "75 per cent of the success of a football season depends upon the strength of the reserve material." This season we were lavishly supplied with plenty of good reserves who were ably coached by Mr. Clark. These lads furnished competition for the older boys and did much to develop the varsity into the greatest football team that Marshall has ever had.

Basketball 1951-52

After successfully capturing the Football Championship, Coach Carr turned his efforts towards making an equally successful basketball squad. He succeeded well, tying with Coldwater and Sturgis for first place in the Twin Valley Conference, with each school awarded a cup.

The Cartmen attacked a tough schedule of sixteen games and emerged from the battles with eleven wins and five defeats. Two of these were with non-association teams.

The Sturgis fray was the last and most exciting game of the season. It fell to Garth Thick to score the winning basket with only a half minute left and then to commit his fourth personal foul, giving Sturgis one last chance to tie the score. The Sturgian missed and all the Marshall fans sighed with relief while the Sturgis backers sighed with what might be called pain. Men who graduate this year are: Co-captains Frederick Waidelich and Wayne Miller, Hartley Blakeslee, Garth Thick, and Harold Rose who scored the last Redskin basket of the season. Their record is as follows:

Junior High Basketball

Junior High Basketball was initiated in the Marshall Schools when Coach Rexford Clark took it upon himself to see what he could do with a group of boys having practically no experience in basketball. He took McCarver, succeeded in finding him. He put this group of boys through six or seven games without a single defeat, bringing to Marshall the first Junior High Championship.

The first and closest battle of the season occurred on January 8, when Coach Clark's protegees met the Olivet cagers on the local floor. Marshall won, 13—11.

On January 15 Clark's midgets journeyed to Lakeview and returned home on the long end of a 19—5 score.

Bellevue was the next victim when they came here on January 21 and were defeated, 28—3.

Clark's boys went to Olivet on February 2 and played a return game with the lads who gave them a real scare early in the season. The Marshall cagers won, 14—4.

On February 9, Bellevue received its second defeat by Marshall on its own floor, the score being 23—4.

On February 16 occurred the championship game between Lakeview and Marshall on the local court. Our boys won, 19—13, gaining undisputed claim to the first Junior High Championship.

Three days later Hillsdale sent their Junior High team here with intentions of getting the 'Champs' at home. We were successful in this by score of 16—11.

Those who graduate from Junior High are: Warren Kelley, Walter McKiver, David Sherman, Wendell Bemis, and George Bayley.

THE DIAL

Track

Track, under Mr. Carr, was again taken up as a spring sport in Marshall. Although several other schools dropped Track from their programs Carr's interest in it for no other reason than to see Ronald Preston win the mile at the State meet in Lansing on May 28.

This year Carl Carr was not blessed with the same wealth of material of previous years. Ronald Preston was the only letter man to report for practice. Others who opposed the team were: G. Harder, 100 and 200 dashes; C. Flynn and M. Allen, 440; C. Elyea, high jump; C. Ullman, long jump; H. Hill, triple jump; D. Sherman, pole vault; and M. Flynn, shot put.

The first competition was with Battle Creek and Lakeview on May 11. Preston captured Marshall's only first place in his race event. Murray took second in the high jump. Elyea took third in the 100 yard high hurdles. Elyea scored fourth in the 880 while Sherman took fourth in the pole vault.

Preston and Elyea represented Marshall at the Regional, Preston at the State meet.

Golf

Golf, under Mr. Clark was instituted as a major sport in Marshall this year. Coach Clark's first call brought ten lads who practiced a week at which time he chose ten members consisting of W. Clayborn, G. Lamphier, J. Chapman, R. Stout, R. Welch and F. Clements.

Lakeview furnished opposition for the first meet on April 22, at the Lyon Lake course. The visitors won by seven strokes. Clayborn, Lamphier, Stout and Chapman played for Marshall.

The second meet occurred on April 28 with Coldwater defeating the local linksters on our own course. Clayborn captured low score of the day with an 82.

On May 5, our "pasture-poolers" journeyed to Coldwater and again lost. In this meet Chapman played in Stout's place while Clements held down Chapman's.

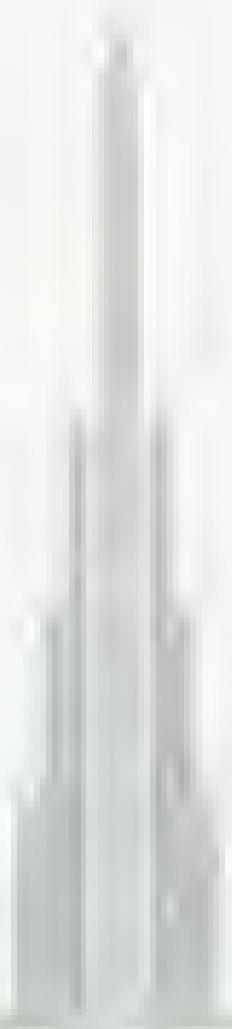

The fourth meet occurred on the new Marshall Downs course when Lakeview turned Coal Clark's boys away with a score of 141. Ted Clements scored Marshall's only points. The final meet occurred on May 21 at Coldwater.

Basketball Reserves

The Reserve Basketball team like the varsity had a successful season. They were coached by another than Mr. Clark who has for the past two years helped Mr. Carr out considerably by coaching his reserve teams. The reserves furnished entertainment before nearly every game in which the varsity engaged.

These young Redskins played a total of eleven games of which they won six, lost four and tied one. The tie game was played with Sturgis on the local court. The score stood 15—15 after two overtime periods had been played. The second team won twice from the Otsego and Lakeview reserves and once from the Coldwater and Hillsdale reserves. The defeats occurred at the hands of the Albion, Coldwater and Sturgis reserves with Albion winning twice.

Coach Clark's boys amassed a total of 204 points to its opponents 172. Andrew Little, Junior was the leading scorer, forty-four to his credit. Harry Rose, a Senior who played in several varsity games, was second with forty-one. William Clayborn, a Junior who like Rose played in several varsity contests, and Eugene Petrelli, Freshman, had eighteen tallies. Roger Johnson, Junior also tied with sixteen points during the year. Other members of the reserve squad are: Paul Van Voorhees, a Senior; Allen Welch and Maxton Murray, Juniors; M. L. S., and H. F. and W. R. L. Stratford, Seniors; and G. M. and S. Thompson, Sophomores.

Intramural Sports

Intramural Sports were introduced into Marshall High School this year through the combined efforts of Mr. Holmes, Mr. Rose and Coach Carr. After witnessing several fine programs carried on by neighboring schools, it was decided that it would be given a trial in Marshall High largely for the benefit of those who do not enter into the major sports.

A get-together assembly of all the boys in both the Junior and Senior high was held on Tuesday, April 5, and a general discussion took place with the men teachers of the faculty acting as speakers. Baseball and track were to be taken up and each of the classes voted for a manager of its respective teams. Fred Wadelich was chosen as manager of Senior baseball team, Gerald Kimmel for the Juniors, Wendy Miller for the Sophs and Eugene Purcell for the Frosh.

The Senior class remained undefeated after three games and the Sophs were second with one defeat, this being inflicted by the Seniors. The game deciding the championship was played May 19 with the Sophs and Seniors facing each other.

Soft-ball teams were organized in the seventh and eighth grades under management of Dick Kempf and Minard Mumaw, respectively.

Rules and regulations were stated and followed closely. All games begin at 4:15 sharp and no smoking nor obscene language was allowed, penalty for breaking this rule being the elimination from further activities.

Each class did its best to win the track championship at the class track meet held May 26.

Teams were to furnish all equipment except the baseballs which were donated by Coach Weatherwax, formerly of Marshall and Varsity baseball, Freshman football and basketball coach at Hillsdale College.
